

INVIS[®]

Invisible, detachable joining.

INVISIBLE AS THOUGH GLUED, FLEXIBLE AS THOUGH SCREWED.

INVIS is a revolutionary new joinery system based on a no-touch invisible magnetic screw connector that attaches and detaches easily within seconds, almost as if by magic.

INVIS allows you to focus your customer's attention on your work product instead of the joints holding it together - like invisible clamps!

Since it makes connections invisible, without altering appearances, INVIS opens up entirely new possibilities in architectural millwork, furniture and cabinet making, casework, exhibit booth manufacture, custom closet design, staircase building and interior decoration.

HOW IT WORKS

And this is the principle that makes everything possible. The rotating magnetic field of the screw unit turns the screw inside the connector. The fine thread is screwed in the threaded bolt in the opposite part to ensure a tight connection.

The impact wrench effect of the INVIS connector ensures amazingly high tightening values. To open the connection, the rotation of the magnetic screw driver must be changed. It is held once again parallel to the connector axis and the connection is opened without contact.

THE INVIS STARTERKIT

The magical world of INVIS is simple and well organized. With the Starterkit in the compact carrying case, work can begin at once: drilling jigs, drills, screw-in tools and dowel marker pins, most importantly the handy, magnetic INVIS screw driver with battery and charger are all provided. In addition, forty INVIS joining elements are also supplied in two sizes for your first application.

Manufacturer / Importer:
INVIS (North America), Inc.
8001 Irvine Center Drive, Suite 400
Irvine, California 92618
Tel./Fax. (877) 867-9019
www.swissinvis.com
info@swissinvis.com

Distribution:

Invis is protected by int. & US patent laws
INVIS® is a registered trademark Invis is a product of Switzerland and manufactured by Invis AG, a member of the Lamello Group of companies.
©2003 Invis North America, Inc.